EMERGENCY SERVICES:
Hotline calls intensified as survivors faced new COVID-based threats from abusers, lost jobs and income, and experienced increased severity in abuse. It was necessary to limit the number of guests at the shelter due to the virus so we quickly pivoted to alternative ways to shelter those in fear for their lives.

BECAUSE OF OUR DONORS, WE WERE ABLE TO:
Preserve the workforce required to maintain both emergency shelter and 24/7 hotline response in English and Spanish. Responded to every call with compassion and care. Provided 1,969 bednights of emergency safe housing in a one-year period since the start of COVID.

TRANSITIONAL HOUSING PROGRAM:
Many residents lost their jobs, took on the responsibility for homeschooling their children, and faced barriers due to their unfamiliarity with technology.

BECAUSE OF OUR DONORS, WE WERE ABLE TO:
Help residents access resources in the county to thrive, from food pantries to rental assistance, and provided specialized trainings to enhance technology capacity. Helped 15 families with 30 children transition to permanent housing.

CHILDREN AND YOUTH DIVISION:
COVID required us to suspend all in-person therapy and support groups, thereby initially disrupting the therapy services C4DP had in place when the pandemic started.

BECAUSE OF OUR DONORS, WE WERE ABLE TO:
Quickly pivot to online and phone therapy and support sessions for adults and their children, with 92 parents and 24 children already having benefitted from this new telehealth-service.

LEGAL SYSTEMS ADVOCACY PROGRAM:
When the physical courts closed, many survivors were midstream with seeking permanent protection orders and resolving court cases. Access to technology to engage in virtual sessions with the courts was a new a barrier for many.

BECAUSE OF OUR DONORS, WE WERE ABLE TO:
Quickly establish a new, virtual systems approach with our collaborators to ensure that domestic violence survivors’ criminal and civil court cases could proceed. Staff expanded their advocacy work to include training on technology for survivors. Overall, this program assisted 451 with legal advocacy since the pandemic started.
