

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE RESPONSE PROTOCOLS THAT SAVE LIVES

A start-to-finish training to help your agency quickly connect domestic violence victims and their children to safety

Your designated employees will become Healthy Relationship Assessors & Domestic Violence Risk Level Assessors.

Trainer: Kate Kain, Deputy Executive Director, Center for Domestic Peace

Domestic violence is the number one violent crime in Marin County.

When a victim is connected to Center for Domestic Peace, violence is reduced.

Imagine your agency as part of the solution to ending domestic violence.

A COMPREHENSIVE TRAINING THAT INCLUDES:

1. Sample domestic violence response policies & procedures
2. How to assist victims in your workforce as well as those you serve
3. A 'training of trainers' for your response policy administrators
4. Specialized training for your designated employees on how to:
 - ◇ conduct Domestic Violence Risk Level Assessments
 - ◇ help parents determine and provide immediate guidance if their children have been effected by witnessing domestic violence
 - ◇ help clients who are asking, "Is my relationship healthy?"
5. Prevention messaging: poster, flyers, video clips for all of your sites

$1800. To register, or for more information, contact:
Madelyn Knowles, mknowles@c4dp.org